Whitehall, April 15.

AN Expreſs, which arrived on Sunday laſt from his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, brought the following Advices.

Aberdeen, April 6. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland will begin his March To-morrow towards Inverneſs, where he propoſes to be on the 17th Inſtant. All the Intelligence we have had for theſe two Days paſt about the Rebels, has been only a Confirmation of their Confuſion and Mutinies; and we hear that they deſert from all Parts. Captain Mac Kay, Lord Reay's Son, and Sir Henry Monro, Son to the late Sir Robert, both Captains in Lord Loudoun's Regiment, are juſt come hither with Letters from Captain O Brien of the Sheerneſs Man of War now off this Place, giving an Account, That after chaſing the Hazard Sloop (called by the French the Prince Charles Snow) above 56 Leagues, he drove her aſhore, and obliged the French and Spaniards who were in her, to quit her, and to land, which they did, with five Cheſts of Money, to the Value of 12000 l. and upwards, in order to join the Rebels; but the Lord Reay, in whoſe Country they were landed, and at whoſe Houſe Captain Mac Kay, Sir Henry Monro, Lord Charles Gordon, and Captain Mac Cleod, with ſome other Officers of Lord Loudoun's Regiment were, with about 80 Men of the ſame Regiment, who had been driven thither by the Rebels, marched out and attacked them, and after killing three or four, and dangerouſly wounding eight, took the remaining 156 Officers, Soldiers and Sailors, Priſoners, who were immediately embarked on board the Sheerneſs; and the Prize, with the Highland Officers and Men, who made this Capture, are now here. The Captain of the Sheerneſs alſo picked up, in the Orkneys, a Ship of Boſton in New England, commanded by one Sinclair, who had ſome Arms and Ammunition on board, and had put himſelf into the Power and Service of the Pretender. His Mate and Men had before quitted him; and upon the Sheerneſs's coming into the Harbour of Stromneſs, he, and the Highlanders who were with him, got off in the Boat, but Captain O Brien has brought off the Ship, with what Arms and Ammunition were on board. The Priſoners on board the Sheerneſs are ordered to be ſent to Berwick. There is one Colonel Brown on board, who made his Eſcape from Carliſle, after the Surrender of the Town was agreed upon.

The Money, which was landed out of the Hazard Sloop, was taken by Lord Reay's Men.

The Day after Captain O Brien took Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Sloop, he found on board her, 14 Cheſts of Piſtols and Sabres, with 13 Barrels of Powder, deſign'd for the Uſe of the Rebels.

Aberdeen, April 7. The March of the Army for Inverneſs is deferred 'till To-morrow. We hear from Dunkeld, that the Rebels having raiſed the Siege of Blair, and retired with the greateſt Precipitation upon the Approach of the Troops ſent to relieve that Place, the Prince of Heſſe was to return to Perth as this Day, and to encamp there with all the Six Heſſian Battalions, except 500 Men that are to remain at Taybridge; that St. George's Dragoons were to be cantoned in and about Huntingtoun, and the two other Regiments were to repair to Crief.

A Liſt of Priſoners on Board his Majeſty's Ship the Sheerneſs, Capt. O Brien, who belonged to the Hazard Sloop, called by the French the Prince Charles Snow.

Colonel Brown, Knight of St. Louis, Commander of the Picquet and all the Land Officers on this Expedition in the French Service.

Captain Talbot commanded the Prince Charles Snow, in the Service of France.

Captain M‘ Mahon commanded the Picquet of Berwick's Regiment.

Captain St. Clair, of Virſt's Regiment, Spaniſh Service.

Captain Rogers of Berwick's Regiment.

Edward Barnewall,
William Barnewall,
Nugent,
Morris,
} Lieutenants.

Captain M‘ Mahon, of the Regiment of Hainault, French Service.

Captain

1553

Captain M[c] Pherſon, Hibernian Regiment, Spaniſh Service.
Captain Hay, Spaniſh Service.
Captain Gould, Ultonica Regiment, Spaniſh Service.
Captain O Farrel, Spaniſh Ingineer.
Lieutenant Hynes, Ultonica Regiment, Spaniſh Service.
Lieutenant Obrian, Clare's Regiment, French Service.
Lieutenant Birmingham, Clare's Regiment.
O Byrn, the ſame Regiment.
Baſile Barnewall, Royal Scotch, French Service.
Lieutenant Wyer, the ſame Regiment.
M. Chabellard, a Gens d'Armes of the French King's Guard.
Leſly, who went as Pilot of the Ship, when ſhe was carried to France, and came in the Prince Charles Snow, as Pilot or Maſter.
Blyth, who likewiſe went from Montroſe, and returned in an Office on board this Ship.
Two Deſerters, one from the Welch Fuzileers, and one from Bligh's.
The reſt of the Sea Officers, and the Ship's Company, we have not any Liſt of. In all, Land and Marine Officers, and Soldiers and Seamen, there are 156 Priſoners.

Edinburgh, April 9. The French Privateer, ſaid to have landed ſome Officers and Men in Lord Reay's Country, comes out to be the Hazard Sloop. Lord Reay, who arrived at Leith Yeſterday, gives the following Account of her being taken.

On the 25th of March the Hazard Sloop was obſerved by Lord Reay and his People ſailing up the Tongue Bay, and was ſoon follow'd by Capt. O Brien in the Sheerneſs, who immediately attack'd her. In the Engagement the Hazard Sloop had ſeveral Men killed, beſides a good many wounded, and not being able to maintain the Fight, ſhe run aſhore on the Shallows, where the Sheerneſs could not follow, and there landed her Men and Money. Lord Reay's Sons, with ſome other Officers, gather'd what Men they could together, attack'd thoſe that landed from the Hazard Sloop, and, after killing five of them, took the reſt Priſoners, and ſeized the Money, ſaid to be 12,500 Guineas; but one Cheſt of it was miſſing, and another broke. Lord Reay and his Friends being apprehenſive of a Viſit from the Rebels, embarked with their Treaſure and Priſoners, and arrived on Sunday Night at Aberdeen with the Hazard Sloop; and in paſſing the Orkneys, Capt. O Brien brought along with him the Boſton Ship, that was treacherouſly ſeized by Capt. Sinclair for the Rebels. It is ſaid that Sir James Stuart of Burray has raiſed 300 Men in thoſe Parts for the Rebels, who are plundering Earl Morton's Eſtate. Lord M'Cleod was arrived in Caithneſs with 3 or 400 more, and endeavouring to raiſe greater Numbers: His Succeſs is variouſly reported.

There were ſcarce any French, except Sailors, on board of the Hazard; the Officers and Soldiers are moſtly Iriſh, and ſome Scotch, commanded by one Brown.

The three large Ships ſeen off Holy Iſland, appear now to be three Dutch Men of War ſent to join Commodore Smith.

Vienna, April 13. There is Advice that M. de Caſtellar, who was ſuppoſed to have marched from Parma towards Placentia, having had Notice that General Nadaſti was poſted at Borgo St. Donino, between thoſe two Cities, had ſhut himſelf up again at Parma; whereupon General Brown haſtened with his whole Army from Sorbolo by Colorno to Borgo St. Donino, with a Deſign to oppoſe a Succour of 12000 Men, which he was informed was coming from Placentia to M. de Caſtellar; ſo that we are in Expectation of hearing every Moment of the Succeſs of this Enterprize, which is become the more important, as by Advices from Prince Lichtenſtein of the 5th Inſtant, this Court has News, that the Spaniards had evacuated Pavia the Day before, and were marched to Placentia. The Prince adds, that he does not doubt of Valentia's having been evacuated at the ſame Time, which laſt Place the King of Sardinia had undertaken the Siege of, while he, Prince Lichtenſtein, was, by his Sardinian Majeſty's Conſent, in Motion to join General Bernclau upon the Teſſin on the Side of Pavia. As the Spaniards are gone from Pavia to Placentia, which may put General Brown into ſome Danger at Borgo St. Donino, between Placentia and Parma, General Bernclau has marched back with the greateſt Diligence to join General Brown, which it is hoped may be done in Time, at or about Cremona, the Diſtance being about equal from Milan to Cremona, and from Pavia to Borgo St. Donino, and the latter not being above ten Italian Miles diſtant from Cremona. In the mean while the French, who are at Novi and Gavi, and who are ſaid not to have been ſuffered by the Spaniſh Garriſon to enter into Tortona, are looked upon, for the preſent, as out of Play, till the Arrival of the 25000 Men, which it is ſaid the Court of Verſailles has ordered into Italy through the River of Genoa. The Spaniards having now all paſſed the Po, it is hoped General Brown will be able to hinder their Retreat into the Eccleſiaſtical State, which it is ſuppoſed muſt be their principal Deſign in evacuating Pavia, in order to aſſemble at Placentia.

Berlin, April 16. The laſt Letters from Poland brought nothing more relating to the Requiſition ſaid to be made for the Paſſage of 40,000 Men through Lithuania.

Copenhagen, April 16. The Equipment of the three Daniſh Ships intended for the Mediterranean, goes on very briſkly; 'tis thought they will be ready to ſail about the Middle of next Month. Three or four hundred Waggons with inliſted Sailors, are juſt now coming into the Town.

Hambourg, April 19. The Ruſſian Reſident has received from his Court a Reſcript, confirming the Death of the late Regent Princeſs of Mecklenburg, and informing him at the ſame Time of the Funeral Ceremonies which the preſent Empreſs had thought fit to have ſolemnized for that unhappy Princeſs, in the Convent of Alexander Newsky, where her late Mother the Dutcheſs lies likewiſe interr'd.

Hague, April 22, N. S. The Allied Army in Brabant begins to encamp To-day or To-morrow.

morrow. The French alſo begin to be in Motion, but are not yet, it is ſuppoſed, aſſembled in any conſiderable Body. It is ſaid, that all the Infantry has Orders to pick out ten of their beſt Men per Company, who are to hold themſelves in Readineſs to march upon ſome ſecret Detachment at an Hour's Warning. The Fortifications of Ath are demoliſhing. The Paris Letters mention the Junction of the Auſtrian Corps in the Parmeſan being effectuated, and M. Gages having ſent off, ſome Days before he evacuated Pavia and marched to the Relief of Parma, moſt of his Artillery and heavy Baggage over the Bocchetta towards Genoa; ſo that we are in hourly Expectation of the News of ſome deciſive Action's having paſt between Placentia and Parma.
